

ROYAL

The world-wide standard Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder and its use is more economical than other leavening agents, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Cheap baking powders, containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or advertised as pure and wholesome. Such mixtures are not desirable for food ingredients. Most persons have learned to their sorrow that a low price does not always mean economy. This is especially so in a food article. No baking powder can properly be substituted for Royal.

Read the ingredient clause upon the label. If it does not show "Cream of Tartar," don't buy the powder.

Senator Ollie James has urged the Kentucky Assembly to enact a corrupt practices act, patterned after the New Jersey law.

The people of New Richmond, Ohio, are elated over the official returns of their election to issue bonds for a $50,000 new school house. Three hundred and fifty-one votes were cast, a large vote; six were thrown out and seventeen were opposed to the issue. According to the plans submitted, the new building will have eleven class rooms, a gymnasium, rest rooms and a basement.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars to anyone that it fails to cure. Send for literature.

THE COLLAR THAT TICKLES.

(Aberdeen Gretna Green.)

Several years ago Charley Broese, of Maysville, had a dog, that wore a collar with the inscription: "I am Charley Broese's dog; whose dog are you?" Some times we see people who recall that inscription, only they don't wear a brass collar, but they assume that high and mighty big I, and little you—air. That tickles one so.

COLORED DESPERADO GETS HIS.

William Franklin, the colored highwayman, who was shot in the leg by Marshal Sayers a few weeks ago while resisting arrest, was sentenced to serve a term of from two to ten years at Newport Saturday. The negro held up another negro at the point of a revolver at Silver Grove, robbing him of money and a gold watch, escaping on an east-bound freight. The negro is evidently a desperate character, as a large automatic revolver was found upon him at the time of his arrest.—Augusta Chronicle.

SAME OLD FIGHT

"Big Four" Tobacco Monopoly Bringing On Another Rumpus With The Tobacco Farmers.

(Augusta Chronicle.)

If all reports are true, the officials of the American Tobacco Company are either men of very shallow brains, or they think the tobacco growers are minus ordinary horse sense. Two or three years ago when the government made the order dissolving the tobacco trust, it was only natural to suppose that there would be some genuine competition in the buying of tobacco, but such has not proved to be the case, at least to such an extent that it is noticeable to the ordinary observer. The four large companies have buyers on all the markets, but they do not buy any grades but those allotted to the factories they represent, and at prices ordered by the trust, said prices continuing to get lower as the season advances. The trust also have tobacco men employed in each section, who are acquainted with local conditions, to solicit certain grades of tobacco to be delivered at some certain warehouse, where the buyer for that particular grade will have things his own way, and buy practically at his own price. In the opinion of the Chronicle, if the officials of the tobacco trust believe that the farmers will continue to grow tobacco and sell it to them without genuine competition and at a very low price, they will be badly fooled. Mark this prediction.

DEFENDS TUMULTY

President Denies the Charge That Religious Prejudice Has Affected Correspondence.

Washington.—In a letter to W. W. Prescott, editor of the Protestant Magazine, published here, President Wilson has denied emphatically that his correspondence has been handled with religious prejudice by his secretary, Jos. P. Tumulty.

In a letter, Prescott said he learned from personal interviews and correspondence that there is widespread feeling among Protestants that it is practically impossible for any communication relating to activities of the Roman Catholic Church to reach the President personally, for all such letters are withheld by Tumulty. The President emphatically denied this.
